READERSHIP...

Your Cameron Herald is going to open style makeup throughout the publication, latest in modernization of one of Texas' oldest institutions.

This means more white space throughout reading type and around pictures and artwork. We are eliminating what is known as cutoff lines above heads, allowing more "white space" between heads and stories and art.

We are also eliminating a standard marker for a story, one which has been on these pages since our beginning, the "30 dash."

Effect of layout like this is an open, magazine style treatment of varying widths of types, broader use of display types and additional use of art and photos accompanying stories.

We hope you find it visually pleasing and easy to read. Advertising layout will remain substantially the same.

APRIL OR AUGUST? A small muddy puddle is all that's left of the lake at Wilson-Ledbetter Park now, as the winter drouth continues into spring. Only signs of life in the dried-up lake bed are numerous "crawdad" holes among the broken bottles, old tires, and other litter.

Drouth Now 'Critical'

Dry winds continued this week and county agriculture officials are now calling the agriculture picture "critical." The Agriculture Disaster Committee for Milam County is meeting this week and anticipates requesting federal drought disaster relief.

Douglas Buck, ASCS office manager in Cameron, said two forms of relief would be considered for Milam farmers: approved grazing on the 8,162 acres that have been set aside in the long term land retirement program; or a feed program where the government would share in the cost of purchasing feed for cattle.

Buck said pasture forage was very short throughout Milam County and most of Texas.

John Snell, Associate County Agent, also assessed the local agriculture picture as critical. He said most farmers were waiting to plant and where dry planting was tried the seed is "just lying in the fields."

Rain totals in Texas made March one of the driest months on National Weather Service records. But for most of Texas this was just a continuation of record breaking drought that began in November.

In the Cameron area only 2.38 inches of rainfall has been recorded since November 1. Most of this moisture was lost when it was followed by unseasonably high temperatures and strong dry winds.

Monthly rainfall totals in the Cameron area were: November - .27; December - .77; January - trace; February - 1.34; March - none.

County Agent J. D. Moore gave the only encouraging word. He pointed out that rainfall was unusually heavy in 1970 leaving some sub-surface moisture. This means that if rain comes in the next two weeks, it will take less rainfall to give a good soil moisture count.

Moore said the first of April was generally considered the deadline for planting sorghum, but cotton could be planted up until May.

Even the wildflowers have been affected by the drouth. Bluebonnets usually found in profusion in early spring, are short - generally about two or three inches high - and scattered.

Yoe's One-Act Play Wins 2nd In UIL Competition

Yoe High School's performance of "He", a one-act play by Eugene O'Neill, won second place honors in District 20 AA competition at Round Rock Monday.

Six schools were competing in the University Interscholastic League 20 AA division.

John Ben Sutter won the award for "best actor." Honorable mentions went to Danny Robbins and Bill Gray.

Other members of the cast were Mary Bowman, Ken McLerran, James Mueck, Mike Postival, and Clint Schofield. Thomas Dusek was director.

Buckholts One-Act Play 2nd

On Monday, Mar. 29, the Buckholts Rural High School competed in the district 15-B One Act Play Contest, held at McClellan Community College in Waco. Other participants were Lorena, Troy, Academy, and Riesel.

The Buckholts School placed second with the play entitled "Columbine Madonna". Three members of the cast made the All-Star selection. These were Paul Mendoza, Jackie Zajicek, and Janisue Zajicek.

Other members making up the cast were Arthur Cobb and Larry Eickenhorst.

Milam Association Protects Horsemen

Milam County has become headquarters for a statewide protective association for horsemen, patterned after the long active Cattlemen's Association.

The Southwest Horse Owners Association is generally interested in furthering the horseman's cause. Specifically it will help protect horseowners against theft, aid in tracing stolen horses or equipment, help promote horse shows and sales and lobby before the Horseman's Congress.

Driving force behind the recently state-chartered organization is William A. Booth of Rockdale. Booth, who is backed by a 40 year career showing and training horses, is president of the Association. His sons Jim and W. P. Booth are vice presidents. Directors are R. E. Moore of Galena Park, T. W. Binbow of Bellaire, Bill Burton of Houston and Charles Coleman of Rockdale.

Offices are in the Montgomery Ward building in Rockdale and at the Booth's farm on Highway 79 2.5 miles west of Rockdale.

Booth says there are more horses in Texas now than there were in the 1880's when they were the principal means of transportation. He estimates there are 35,000 independently owned horses in the Houston city limits. And with good show horses selling at $5,000 and up, it represents a tremendous investment for Texas horsemen.

The Association has three salesmen currently selling the $25 a year memberships throughout the state. They also employ eight investigators, all former lawmen with a combined 96 years investigative experience.

Southwest Horse Owners Association investigators have applied for special Texas Ranger commissions, similar to those held by investigators of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association.

They will keep files containing detailed descriptions of each member's horses, unsolved cases and former offenders.

A bulletin is published monthly giving information on stolen horses and equipment taken from members. Booth said at least 75 horses are reported stolen each month in Texas, and until now, few were ever returned.

He said it is not difficult to trace a stolen horse or horse equipment if investigators are notified promptly. Because most horses are registered and easily identified, stolen horses are rarely sold in local auctions. In most cases they are pastured and later transported across state lines. "This is why it is important to investigate horse thefts quickly," Booth said.

Booth has lived in Rockdale for the past 2 1/2 years. Before buying the Shelby Smith, Sr. place in South Milam County, he was a noted horse trainer in Houston. Because of his familiarity with the Houston area early organizational work started there, branching out to north and central Texas. Booth said they hope to expand their coverage into Louisiana, Oklahoma and New Mexico.

Booth lists goals for the Southwest Horse Owners Association as:

Protection against theft; investigation and search for stolen stock or equipment; a constantly updated file of prints and information about all known criminals; top investigators and communication service;

A staff of top trainers, showmen and horsemen to better serve the horse owner; complete files on members' horses; cooperative purchase or sale of horses through general office; investigation service on registry papers.

The Association will also provide free counseling on all horse problems including feeding, training, general care and showmanship, and act as liaison between members and various horse registry organizations.

AH Ceilings Checked Engineer OKs School

The Cameron School trustees studied a report from an architect - engineer on the March 27 survey of the Ada Henderson school building, during a regular meeting Tuesday night.

The report, submitted by John Charles Allen, of Austin, told in detail of his inspection of ceilings on the second floor of the building, where a plaster ceiling fell in early March.

Among other items on the agenda, trustees heard a report from the building committee, which recommended obtaining professional help for long-range planning.

Supt. D. R. Dodson said the Texas Education Agency offers the service at no cost to the school district. Other items discussed by the committee included the possibility of using the Catholic school building, use of classroom space in the gym, and the possibility of closing 12th St. to through traffic in a three block area.

The report stated in part: "The attic space of the building was entered through the access hatch in the Book Room and the area of the southern East-West corridor from which the plaster ceiling had been removed was crossed."

"The ceiling of the North-South corridor was inspected on the traverse from south to north. This inspection was made by visual test by shining a light on one side of the bottom chord of the trusses and observing any light passing between the plaster and the chord member.

"Practically no looseness was detected in this manner and heavy blows on the ceiling between supports produced little vibration."

"One crack which occurs across the corridor, and which is indicated on the attached plan is believed to be caused by contraction and is not considered to be of structural significance. In review, this section of the corridor ceiling is believed to be structurally sound at this time."

"The area of ceiling above the North stairs and along the northern East-West corridor was observed to have separated from the supporting trusses by as much as one-eighth inch in some places, and light can be detected between the ceiling and the truss member. Considerable vibration can be produced by striking a sharp blow on the ceiling material in this area."

"It is therefore recommended that the plaster ceiling over the stairwell and corridor west of the steel beam be removed."

CLASSROOMS

The report continued: "The ceilings of the classrooms were inspected on the return traverse. These ceilings were observed to be tight to the truss members and very little vibration was noted when the ceiling was struck."

"It is my considered opinion that there is no significant danger of collapse of the ceilings in these classrooms."

"In view of this inspection there appears to be little danger of the ceilings falling in any areas other than those indicated, and if these areas are removed and replaced, the building should be considered safe."

The ceiling above the north stairs and along the northern east-west corridor will be replaced with suspended ceilings during the Easter holidays, and the other hallway will be similarly remodeled during vacation.

In other business, trustees moved to increase bus drivers salaries $10 a month and set the meeting time for May at 8 p.m.

Saturday's election votes were canvassed and Calvin Cobb and Mrs. Reeves Brown sworn in. Board officers were re-elected by acclamation - Hilliard Thomas, president; Calvin Cobb, vice-president; and Fredwill Hornung, secretary.

Trustees also voted to have Tuesday added to the Easter holidays. The day was an extra one added to the school calendar last year.

Mrs. Ella Wilkerson and Mrs. Anna Mae Henderson were elected as teachers and routine bills were paid.

76 Vote In City Council Election

Three city councilmen were sworn in Tuesday night following canvassing of the 76 votes counted in the city election. All were incumbents.

Starrett Hickman received 64 votes; Lawrence Zoltz 69, and Robert Clark 67.

In other business, the council discussed joining the Central Texas Council of Governments, and heard the first reading of an ordinance turning over operation and maintenance of the highway intersection traffic light to the Texas Highway Department.

Council also opened bids on a new garbage unit for a city truck and voted to call for bids on a new garbage truck.

Routine department head reports were approved and bills paid.

Community Service To Observe Good Friday

Community Good Friday services will be at 1 p.m. April 9 at the First Presbyterian Church in Cameron. The service is sponsored by the Cameron Ministerial Alliance.

Rev. Alvis Coleman, pastor of First United Methodist Church, will present the Good Friday sermon.

Voters Return Cobb, Elect Mrs. Brown

Cameron voters returned Calvin Cobb to the board of trustees for Cameron Independent School District, and elected a new board member, Mrs. Reeves Brown for her first term.

In Saturday's election, Cobb received 276 votes and Mrs. Brown, 196. Other candidates were Dr. John Martin who received 170 votes and Max Shuemate, 124.

Trustee and city elections were held in the Milam area Saturday with these results:

At Rogers, 54 votes were cast in the uncontested trustee election. Randolph Green received 51 votes, C. O. Gunther 54, Bill Ray 54, and Daniel Lesikar, 54.

In the Rogers city election W. A. Persky was re-elected mayor with 104 votes to his opponent, L. H. Aikin's 26. Incumbent city councilmen Marvin Ralston and Milton Wendler were re-elected.

Rockdale incumbent trustees Emory C. Camp and Mercer Cotton were re-elected with 149 votes each, and Dr. L. E. Selden was re-elected with 152 votes. Bennie D. Williams received 151 votes for county trustee.

Two city councilmen were re-elected at Rockdale - Clyde Jones and John Sonntag.

Three trustees were elected to the Rosebud-Lott school board, M. L. Jenkins with 237 votes, H. J. Zabelk with 203, and James Bell with 191. The fourth candidate, Clay Taylor, received 100

Nance Wins Top Honor At Region Science Fair

Herbert Nance, freshman at Yoe High School, was one of the two top winners at the Central Texas Regional Science Fair held Friday at Baylor University.

He will represent the region at the International Science Fair in mid-May at Kansas City, Mo. Donald Parker of Coparas Cove High School was the other winner.

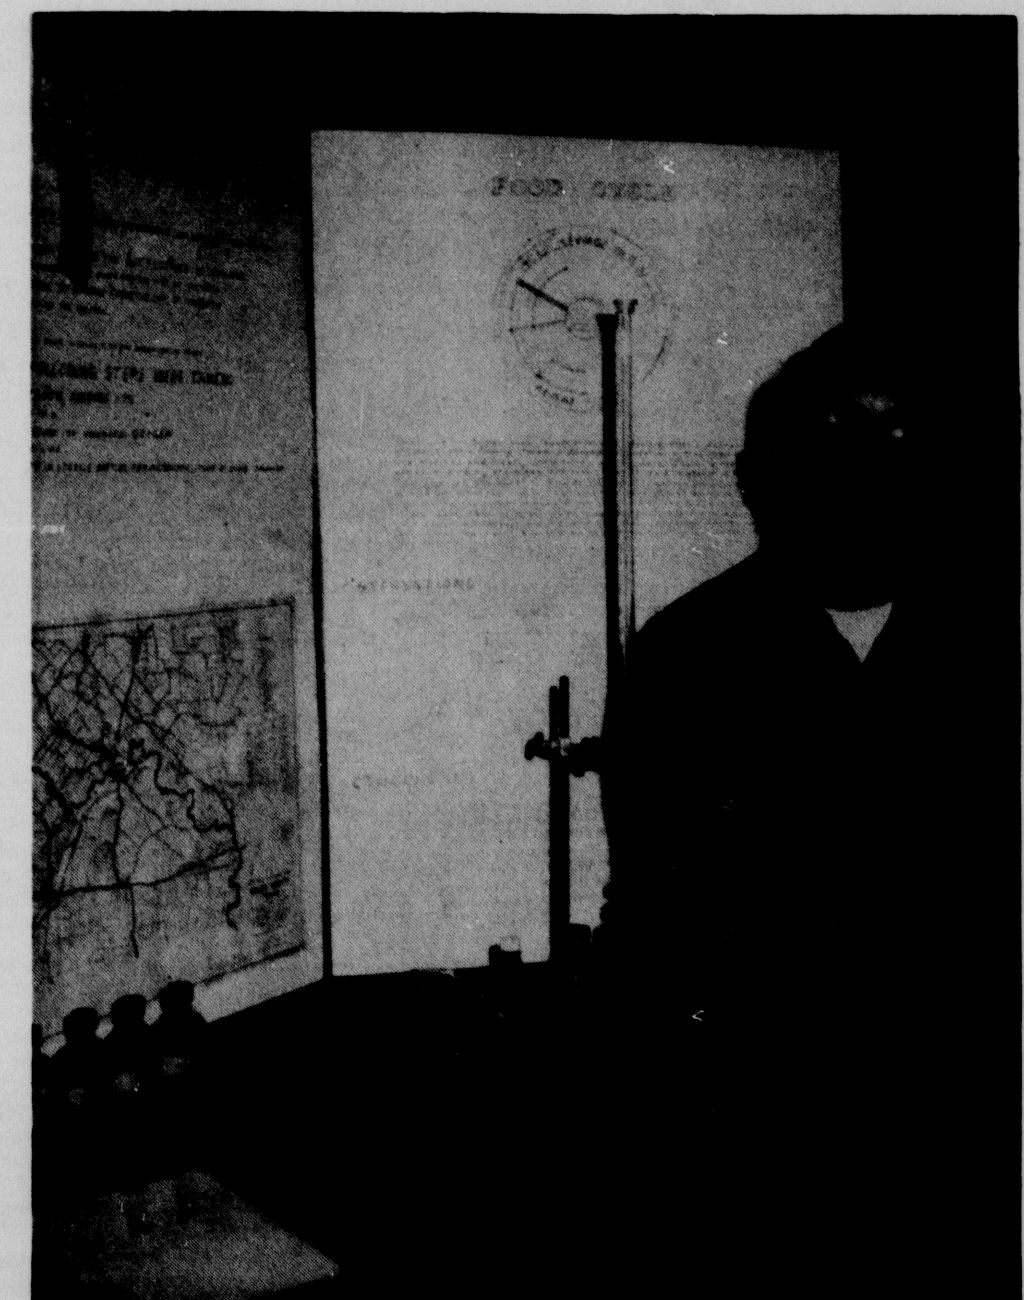

Nance's winning exhibit was entitled "Stream Recovery" and won first place in the ninth grade Biological division at the local science fair in March.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Nance of Cameron.

His project will deal with the pollution of Little River in the national finals. John Reeves is Herbert's sponsor and teacher, and will accompany him to the finals.

Lawrence P. Zoltz won a third place at the regional fair with his exhibit, "Light Refraction and Reflection." Cathy Kubes won an honorable mention for her "Effect of Gibberellin Acid on Cabbage Plants."

Both are students at Yoe High School. Students in grades 7 through 12 from an 11-county area displayed more than 225 exhibits at the fair Thursday and Friday in conjunction with the Texas Academy of Science.

Institutions Reach Out...

Eight Milam area churches and several civic clubs are sponsors of the 12 Boy Scout and Cub Scout units in the March 27 Tejas District Scout Show.

This is involvement in activities which go beyond the strict limits of church and civic work, but which fit the modern need for helping youth in activities of various hues.

Cameron is fortunate to be the center for this annual Scouting exposition. And because it has the facilities and a considerable number of troops, it is a natural location for these organizations and sponsors to congregate.

Each civic club and church group is to be congratulated on taking the time and expending the effort to give leadership to youth of 10 to 16 and older. As for its successful Girl Scout program, Cameron gives much of itself when it focuses development on area youth.

This is another reason Cameron is growing strong and modern.

Rogers Clean-up Week

Neighboring - town Rogers is designating April 10 - 16 city-wide cleanup days.

This is a good example for smaller communities in the Milam area who recognize their possibilities in the 1970s.

Rogers has a good one-A school system and a hopeful future for present residents. One of the first bond issues for water extensions in recent history was passed about a year ago in Rogers.

Communities that size have passed through the major losses of population. It should be upward from now on, possibly gaining growth from eastward spillover in Temple.

Whatever the case, Rogers is making this spring effort to clean up the community for enhancement of its appearance. It is a worthy effort which Rogers citizens themselves might support. The improved appearance of the community will, after all, benefit its residents.

What Others Say...

Big League Delivery

It was one of the trickiest curves thrown in years - New York Mayor Lindsay's bid to keep the crowds coming to Yankee Stadium.

He threw a $24 million request to buy and refurbish the stadium right around the news that some 17,000 teachers and school personnel would have to be laid off or not replaced to meet a school budget deficit of $40 million. . . right past the disclosure that $800,000 in welfare funds were diverted to the money-short city betting unit. . . even whipping around the economics of the police contract negotiations which had precipitated one of the most dangerous strikes in the history of a city where strikes are common.

What aplomb!

Not that we're not sports fans. Not that we don't want New York to retain its baseball Yankees and football Giants.

Nor that we can't see the different sources of the funds and the investment sense of the proposal. There's a chance, either in revenues or in healthy diversion for the city, to more than recoup the $24 million.

But given the incongruous events, the Mayor appears to be finessing the political risks of letting the city lose its sports teams against those of letting its school and welfare and police systems founder.

"Low Down" FROM THE Congressional Record

By JOE CRUMP

(A Column for Readers Who Haven't Time to Review the Congressional Record Daily)

RECYCLING ANSWER TO WASTE PAPER DELUGE

FEP. JOHN G. DOW (N.Y.)
"... Recycling is a national environment issue that is of increasing concern to all Americans.

"I am today offering a bill (H.R. 6368) to require minimum use of recycled paper for all General Services purchases. . .

"Recycled paper can be used for almost any purpose but the Federal specifications require almost totally virgin material in the paper it buys.

"The General Services Administration buys more than 400,000 tons of paper each year at a cost of $140 million. This would be a tremendous market for the recycling industry which could produce an economical product that would also use up the growing supply of waste paper.

"The major complaint of the recycling industry is that there is no market for their product; and the Federal Government as the largest single user is the biggest offender. The Government by changing its purchasing policy can demonstrate the feasibility of recycled materials both economically and ecologically.

"The President's message on the environment sent to the Congress on February 8 stated that the General Services Administration is reviewing the Government's purchasing policies. I applaud these efforts. (It's) reported that the new specifications will contain a minimum of from 3 to 50 percent reclaimed fibers.

"Virgin products have been sold for years on the premise that the paper using virgin timber was of superior quality. However, present industry capability has the capacity to produce products of equal quality from recycled materials. . .

"I am presently drafting additional legislation to require ALL governmental purchasing agencies to study and report back on what steps they are taking to use recycled material. . .

A GRASSROOTS COMMENT

The Federal Government's use of recycled material will help, but the taxpayers will resist any effort to subsidize an inefficient operation. The recycling industry with a million tons of idle capacity is not competitive. The manager of Container Corp. of America's waste-paper division states: "the tree people can make paper cheaper."

Smith Calls For $5 Million In Drouth Disaster Relief

By Vern Sanford

Gov. Preston Smith has called on President Nixon to declare 60 Texas counties eligible for drought disaster relief and requested initial allocation of $5 million in federal aid.

All the counties, said Smith, received less than 1.5 inches of accumulated rainfall in the past six months, creating a critical drought condition which adversely affects ranches, farms, dairies, businesses and employment throughout the entire state. Smith said he would not call for emergency disaster legislation because of the "extremely critical" state financial problem. State and local health, employment, agriculture and welfare agencies, the Governor stated, are performing emergency disaster duties as required.

Governor asked an initial allocation of $5 million. In addition, he urged that the U.S. Department of Agriculture, Department of Labor, Health, Education and Welfare and Small Business Administration representatives be assigned to counties to collaborate with state and local officials in inspections, cost estimates and technical guidance. Texas counties included in the request (others may be added), range from the tip of South Texas to the top of the Panhandle. Milam is not included.

WELFARE CUT AVERTED?

Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes announced a way has been found to prevent the sharp cut on May 1 in aid to needy families with dependent children.

Legislation has been introduced to permit the Welfare Department to transfer and spend for AFDC necessary sums not to exceed $6.8 million for the rest of this fiscal year ending August 31.

Barnes said about $5 million is available in a contingency fund of the Welfare Department, and an additional $1 million or more will come from federal matching money.

A comptroller's office representative said there is no question but what funds can be used to avert the scheduled AFDC reduction. Welfare Board on March 22 ordered the May cut which would bring the average AFDC family grant down from $118 a month to $80 and eliminate some 4,500 families from the rolls entirely.

COURTS SPEAK

Third Court of Civil Appeals here ruled that welfare applicants who are turned down by the Welfare Department for aid have no right to appeal to state courts since assistance is not a "vested property right."

Court of Criminal Appeals in Coryell County case held that a district judge has no power to credit a prisoner's time in county jail while he is appealing his conviction toward his eventual prison sentence.

State Supreme Court concluded that a man who built a cabin on an otherwise unoccupied island in Galveston Bay and camped there off-and-on for 10 years did not gain title to it by adverse possession. Court said possession must continue through a 10-year period to take title under adverse possession.

AG OPINIONS

A compact of water districts and river authorities may act for the state in getting $40 million in federal funds which the state might otherwise lose for 1970-71, Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin has held.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded that:

* An independent school district may solicit bids from class ring manufacturers and grant exclusive privilege to one such manufacturer to service voluntary student purchases of rings. Whether grant can extend for five years is a question before federal courts.

* Section of a bill pertaining to abandonment of mineral estate without notice or hearing is unconstitutional, but balance of legislation is not.

TRAFFIC TOLL

Governor Smith expressed "deep concern and disappointment" over the 1970 Texas traffic toll.

Smith noted an increase of nine in fatalities -- a rise to 3560 in 1970 -- over 1969 and an economic loss toll over $1 billion.

Governor said his only encouragement is that, with nearly 500,000 more drivers and a billion more miles traveled over the preceding year, the official death rate per-mile-traveled remained the same as 1969.

Smith pledged aid through news campaigns and called for public support of legislation, police concentration on traffic offenses and forceful treatment of violators by judges.

SCHOOL SANCTIONS URGED

Texas Classroom Teachers Association's professional rights and responsibilities commission will recommend to the TCTA executive board that sanctions be invoked against Crystal City Independent School District.

If sanctions are ordered, state and national accrediting agencies will be notified of unsatisfactory conditions for both students and teachers in the district. Teachers will be encouraged not to accept employment in the school system. Some eight or nine teachers will not be rehired there, according to a TCTA attorney after an investigation.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editor:

Whenever something is being hotly argued and somebody says there are two sides to it, I start looking for a third side so I can get on it and avoid the cross-fire, but it doesn't always work. Take the situation in Laos.

I have searched every newspaper I could get my hands on and listened carefully to television news and not once have I found anybody who has taken the side of the Laotians in the big squabble over the recent battles fought there.

Laos has no designs on North Vietnam, none on South Vietnam, and yet here the two warring nations are shooting up its countryside and the argument around the world is over whether North or South Vietnam is right, not whether Laos is getting the burnt end of the stick.

I have no way of knowing, but I have a notion the Laotians might agree with an idea I've been promoting.

A while back some government officials were proposing an international conference to ban all instruments of war from the moon, saying that space should be used for peaceful purposes only and any plans to put weapons on the moon by any nation should be outlawed.

They've got it exactly backwards. Of all the places I can think of, the moon is the perfect spot for a war.

Up there, two countries could fight to their heart's content without hurting anything else. No trees to defoliate, no villages to burn, no farms to over-run, no buildings to be destroyed, no civilians to be hit, no left-over orphans, no borders to violate, no cities to be bombed or shelled, and the lack of much gravity would make it easy to carry the wounded.

Furthermore, after the war was over, the moon would be in no worse-looking shape than it is now. You could hardly tell what had been going on, and as soon as one war was over, start another, without having to rebuild or even ask the United States for foreign aid.

Naturally, only one war at a time should be scheduled, as the television expense of covering more than one at a time is too great. Summer would be the best time, so long as the war ended before the professional football season started.

If outer space is good for anything it ought to be good to stage a war in. Ask Laos.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Bruised Feelings

"It's a boy," said the absent-minded doctor to the happy parents.

But it happened to be a girl. The following morning, the doctor sheepishly acknowledged his mistake. However, the parents were so unnerved by this turn of events that they determined to sue him for damages.

At the trial, the doctor protested:

"I admit I made a careless statement. But I can't see any basis for a lawsuit. After all, I didn't really do them any harm."

"Not physically," countered the parents, "but he certainly did jolt us mentally. We want compensation for our mental anguish."

Nevertheless, the court sided with the doctor and dismissed the claim. The court said mere bruised feelings, not inflicted on purpose, are insufficient grounds for collecting damages.

Most courts agree. They fear that with no physical injuries to be checked and measured, it is too easy for a claimant to exaggerate his woes.

They also fear they might be flooded by all sorts of vague claims. In another case, a girl demanded damages for hurt feelings when she was erroneously left out of a beauty contest. But again, the court decided her claim was too "iffy" to be allowed.

"To attempt to fix damages for such suffering," said one judge, "would be to enter the realm of speculation."

On the other hand, some courts have granted damages in unusually delicate situations, when feelings are most likely to be tender. For example:

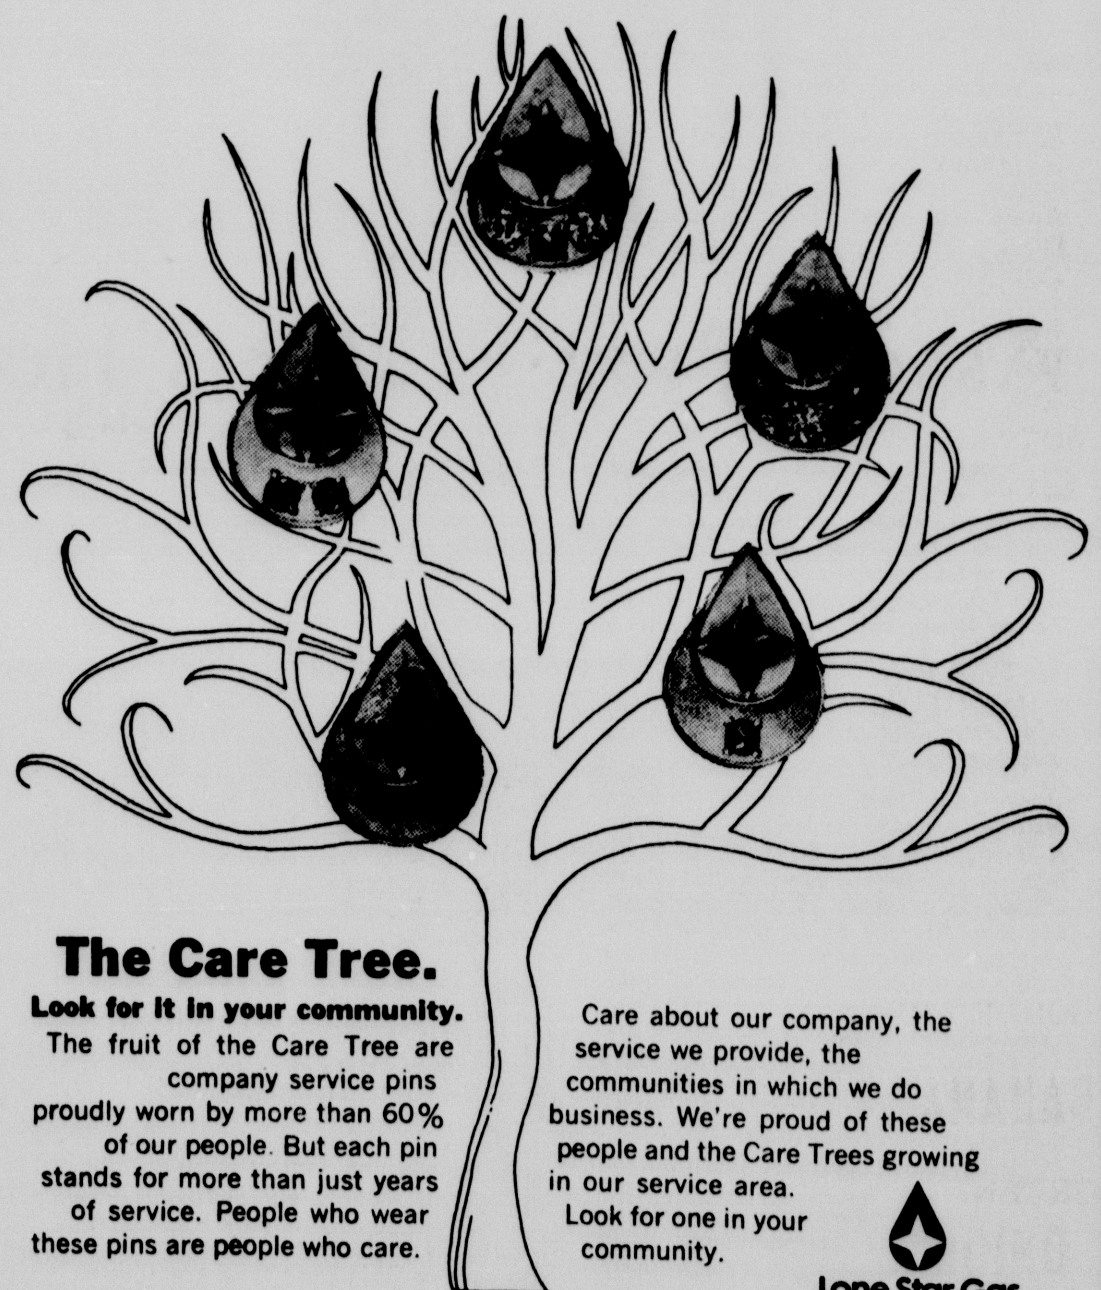

A telegram to a businessman, informing him that his mother had died, was delivered three days late -- after her funeral. Doubly distressed, the man sued the telegraph company for its negligence.

And, even though he had suffered only mental anguish, the court held the company liable. The judge said:

"The mind is no less a part of the person than the body, and the suffering of the former are sometimes more acute than those of the latter."

Peaches Display Delayed Bloom

By J. D. Moore

For the first time in about 15 years, peaches are displaying symptoms of delayed bloom and foliage. This is brought about by insufficient chilling hours.

Each peach variety has a specific requirement for cold hours below 45 degrees F before it can break dormancy and resume normal growth in the spring. While we understand the "normals" of chilling, these are some variables which we can not predict, according to Dr. J. W. Worthington, area horticulturist. Some of the unpredictable influences are: 1. Low soil moisture influences the effectiveness of chilling. 2. Cold weather in December is more effective than a similar number of hours later on. 3. Temperatures above 70 degrees F during the winter tend to counteract the effects of chilling.

The problem this year is a combination of minimum chilling hours, dry weather, high temperatures in December, and late arrival of low temperatures.

Peach growers south of a line from Greenville, Ft. Worth, Stephenville, and Brownwood can expect some varieties of peaches to bloom late if at all. Late blooming varieties may or may not produce adequate crops.

If foliage remains sparse on affected trees through June, home owners may benefit by whitewashing the upper surface of large scaffold branches to prevent sunburning.

Years such as this one tend to make growers want to buy low chilling varieties. These low chillers will bloom too early in "normal" years and are subject to spring freezes.

The Sam Houston variety is an example. If branches are exposed to the afternoon hot sun, homeowners may prevent "sunscald" by wrapping the exposed limbs, branches and even the trunk of young, fast growing plants with aluminum foil.

Poage Comments On Milk Support Price

Cong. W. R. Poage said he has "been disturbed" at reports in connection with the increase in the support price of milk.

"The recent action of the Department simply kept the support of milk at 85 percent of parity which is a fair price," he said in his April 2 newsletter.

He added that the increase in dollars was just under 6 percent. He said news articles have emphasized that the price of milk may go up.

"Actually if the full cost of the increased support were added to the retail price it would amount to less than two cents per quart," he noted.

"Has anyone else done a better job of holding prices down?" he said, "why should there always be critical articles about the very few increases which the farmer gets, while there are none about increases in freight, wages, construction, etc."

Feedlot Provides Most Of Fed Cattle For Packers

Auction markets and terminals are still the major sources of slaughter calves for packers, but the feedlot is providing most of their fed cattle in the west and southwest.

The 1969 report of the Packers and Stockyards Administration of the USDA indicated that Texas and California alone accounted for more than one-third of the cattle fed by packers.

In 1969, packers fed or had fed 1.6 million head of cattle and calves (seven percent of fed cattle marketings).

The concentrated feeding areas in the west and southwest make markets and terminals relatively unimportant in states such as Arizona, California, Colorado, Oklahoma, New Mexico, and Texas.

About 12 percent of the total commercial slaughter of sheep and lambs were packed fed even though only 15 firms were involved in lamb feeding in 1969, Dr. Ed Uvacek, Extension livestock marketing specialist, pointed out.

More than half of the fed lambs come from Colorado, Utah, and South Dakota.

Packer feeding hogs remained relatively unimportant as less than one percent of the total slaughter was packer fed.

The recently released report also indicated that in areas where auctions and terminals were important sources of cattle for packers the country points were leading sources of cattle, hogs, sheep, and lambs.

According to Dr. Uvacek, the 10 major packers bought three-fourths of their cattle, hogs, and sheep from country sources.

He added that the smaller packers used the auctions and terminals to a greater extent for all livestock than the larger packers.

Dr. Uvacek noted that the numbers of livestock purchased by packers on a carcass basis showed upward trends. Almost 20 percent of the cattle bought by packers were on a carcass basis.

Four percent of the calves and seven percent of the sheep and lamb purchases were on carcass basis. Carcass purchases of hogs amounted to four percent of the total purchases.

ASCS NEWS

By Douglas Buck

Friday, April 9, 1971, is the final day to sign up for the Cotton, Wheat, and Feed Grain Programs. Under the 1971 programs, farmers are allowed more freedom in planting.

By setting aside (diverted from production) an acreage of cropland equal to 20% of the Feed Grain Base and/or Cotton Allotment, the farmer may then plant all he desires of any crop except peanuts, rice, sugar crops or tobacco.

Farmers who have not been signing up in the Feed Grain Program in the past should check into this '71 program - it is different and may just fit their operations.

These programs are voluntary, anyone wishing to participate must sign up by April 9.

REAP

Farmers are being reminded that requests filed for REAP practices A-2, Establishment of Permanent Vegetative Cover, and B-1a, Improvement of Established Vegetative Cover, the application of lime or other minerals, or fertilizer, applied in conjunction with a seeding, sodding, or sprigging operation, must be applied according to a soil test.

Only approved public soil testing laboratories are authorized to test soil samples for REAP practices. A list of these laboratories is available at the ASCS office.

Farmers planning to file requests for practices A-2 and B-1a in the near future, should make arrangements now for a soil test so the results will be available when needed.

Farm Storage and Drying Equipment Loan Program

Program changes are being made to be more responsive to the needs of farmers and to make possible reasonable expansion in on-farm storage and drying capacity.

The annual interest percentage rate has dropped to six percent for establishing these facilities.

Restrictions on various items of equipment have been removed. Operating equipment essential to the practical operation of the storage or drying unit may be included in a loan for storage or drying equipment.

Anyone interested in a farm-stored facility loan should contact the Milam County ASCS Office.

Swine Movement Now Restricted For 60 Days

COLLEGE STATION

The Texas Animal Health Commission has ordered a 60-day restriction on the movement of swine in Texas, effective March 29, to control hog cholera.

The movement of all feeder and breeder swine within the state will be allowed only by permits issued after inspection of the herd from which they originate.

Hogs for slaughter can move to a packing house or to a public market without inspection and without written permits, according to Woodrow W. Bailey, Extension livestock and meats specialist.

He cautioned producers that hogs leaving the farm without a permit must be headed for slaughter.

Once at the market they can't be legally taken home or sold as feeders. Offenders are subject to fines, according to Bailey.

Bailey also said that any special breeder or feeder sales must be cleared with authorities in the animal health commission. Written permission can be granted with certain requirements, including on the farm inspection.

Hogs going to shows must be inspected on the farm, earmarked or tagged, and accompanied by a written permit.

Bailey added that hogs can be moved one time with no diversion enroute from one farm to another if they are inspected on the farm and moved under permit.

The USDA announced March 24 that producers may no longer remove apparently healthy animals from their swine herds infected by or exposed to hog cholera.

HD Agent's Notes Cotton Stars In Spring Fashions

By Christine Laws

Cotton fabrics are playing a leading role in this spring's fashions. The natural fiber, which Texas ranks first in producing, is in the spotlight not only as a part of the "return to nature" ecology movement, but also because of its great versatility.

The cotton fabrics, which dye beautifully, are splashed with clear bright colors, as well as with soft, dusty shades this spring. Designs range from plain and homespun to striped and patterned jacquards. Cotton knits, hottest item in the spring market, provide fashion at moderate prices. Cotton knits come in a wide range of textures, including boucle, raschel, rib, mesh, jacquard and jersey knits.

When selecting a cotton knit, always check labels and hangtags for care instructions. If the labels say "mercerized" and "wrinkle-resistant," the fabric is less likely to shrink and stretch. Shrinkage - resistance is important for all cottons, but beware of shrinkage controlled or preshrunk claims that do not state the percentage of shrinkage. Such cottons may shrink up to 5 percent, possibly making the garment too small to wear.

Most cotton knits are washable - some by machine and others by hand. If knits are labeled as "hand washable" yet percentage of shrinkage is not included, it is best to wash them in cool water with little agitation to prevent distortion of the garment's construction.

Before washing, outline the garment's shape on paper, using the paper silhouette for blocking when drying. Knits usually dry better on a flat surface, when hung, the weight of the water can pull the fabric out of shape.

Only when the label specifically says "machine dryable" should that method be used for cotton knits.

FOOD MARKETING TIPS

Shoppers can save food dollars, yet provide nutritious family meals, if they follow some basic marketing guidelines.

One of the best ways to achieve economy is to consider closely food selections from each of the basic food groups, including milk and milk products, meats, fruits, and vegetables, and breads and cereals.

Know what nutrients your family needs to keep physically fit. Learn which foods supply similar amounts of each nutrient, so substitutions can be made without sacrificing food value.

Understand production seasons of food in order to recognize peak periods of supply and quality.

Be a good judge of quality. Learn the edible yield of various foods - the number of servings that fresh, frozen and canned produce and specific cuts of meat will yield.

Be willing and able to read labels, comparing costs of various brands and forms of food. Consider your family's food preferences; unless food is consumed, it is no bargain.

New 200-Page Book To Lure Texas Tourists

AUSTIN — "Texas has never looked so good," J. C. Dingwall, State Highway Engineer, thus summarized the highway department's comprehensive new Texas tourist publication.

Titled TEXAS, LAND OF CONTRAST, the book fills 200 pages with the scenic, historic and recreational pleasures of Texas. It offers concise details on what to see and do, and illustrates the whole with a lavish selection of color photographs.

"Here between two covers is the complete travel guide to Texas," Dingwall said. "With this book, our out-of-state visitors will find points of interest to occupy their time in every part of the state. And they can explore everywhere, because the book contains both detailed section maps, and a statewide fold-out map at the back."

The new book is a consolidation of many formerly separate pieces of highway department travel literature. Combining tourist information about 371 cities and towns in Texas, it also lists state parks and major lakes, facilities in Texas national forests, national recreation areas, Big Bend National Park, and Padre Island National Seashore.

Special sections of the new book include a complete campground guide of publicly operated facilities, sections on Texas rocks and minerals, wildflowers, and birds. Basic hunting and fishing facts are told, along with information on major events, the Texas travel Trails, highlights of Texas history and statistics, plus regulations on visits to Mexico.

Dingwall said, "We think this book will be the most effective tool ever produced for luring more new tourists, and stimulating travel throughout the state. By combining many separate booklets, folders and brochures we'll provide better service to all travelers, and incidentally, save ourselves considerable labor, handling and mailing costs."

He likened the book's wide range of interests to a Sears Roebuck catalogue. "This is really a wish book," Dingwall said. "Anybody opening this book, anywhere in the world, is going to wish they were vacationing in Texas."

The new book culminates more than a year of research and production by the highway department. Dingwall said it involved the cooperation of many state offices including the Texas Tourist Development Agency, Parks and Wildlife Department, and State Historical Survey Committee, plus local chambers of commerce and others.

The publication will be distributed at highway department tourist bureaus on the perimeter of the state, and by mail in response to out-of-state inquiries. Due to the great demand for Texas travel information, Dingwall said the book will be reserved for single copy distribution only. He cited more than a million annual visitors at tourist bureaus, plus the department's responsibility for handling some 275,000 mail inquiries, including coupons from the state's travel ads.

The new book measures eight by eleven inches. The cover, a travel scene from the past, is a Frederic Remington painting of an old stage coach. In its topics ranging from caves to mile-high mountains, the book cites nearly 4,000 items of tourist and travel information. Some 400 color photographs illustrate the text, which is supplemented by 10 detailed section maps.

In its initial production run of 200,000 the book required more than 5,000 pounds of ink and 10 railroad cars of paper weighing 186 tons. Running feet of paper through the press totaled 19 million feet, or nearly 3,600 miles.

Tips For Peeling Hard-Cooked Eggs

Many homemakers complain that hard-cooked Easter eggs are hard to peel.

The problem can be solved by using older eggs or aging them before cooking. To age eggs, simply leave them out of the refrigerator at room temperature for 24 hours.

Crack the shell and peel from the large end. As a further aid, place the egg under cold running water to ease off the shell.

By using these steps, even the freshest eggs, which tend to peel poorly, will present no problem.

Kubiak's Legislative Reports

Rep. Dan Kubiak discussed two important items in his newsletter of April 1 -- status of resolutions asking for investigation of the SEC stock probe, and the request by insurance companies for a still higher premium rate.

Two investigative resolutions have been passed -- one sponsored by Kubiak and Rep. Carl Parker which instructs six people or departments to make a complete investigation and relate the facts to a five-member House investigating committee.

The other resolution establishes a general investigating committee to conduct complete and thorough investigations into all of the matters involved in the stock scandal.

"The truth must be found once and for all," Rep. Kubiak said. "I voted for both of these investigative resolutions; and if they do not disclose all of the facts, we will be back."

INSURANCE RATES

"It is to be noted that approximately 22 percent of the policies have not been renewed since December 30 because of the tremendous increase in insurance premiums," Kubiak stated.

He said the insurance companies are pressing for higher rates after receiving an average of 14 percent increase in December 30.

Several items must be corrected in order to get the premiums back in line, Kubiak said. The dual system of bookkeeping by insurance companies "must not be allowed," he continued.

"A profit can be shown by one system and a loss by the other. This is injustice to the greatest degree," he said.

"Second, reckless drivers must be removed from highways of this state. We have a bill drafted which will be introduced next week to solve this problem."

Texas Dead Last In Drunk Driver Control Says Safety Assocn.

AUSTIN — "While the rest of the nation moves forward in the area of controlling the number one menace on the highways, the abusive drinker, Texas continues to drag its feet," charged George Wm. Perry, president of the Texas Safety Association, today.

The Dallas attorney, who heads the statewide safety group, said that at the beginning of this year three states did not have laws establishing a level of blood-alcohol concentration as presumption of driving while intoxicated, as required by federal standards.

"Now, both Mississippi and New Mexico have established presumptive limits. That leaves Texas as the only state without such legislation," commented Perry.

"Measures have been introduced in the Texas legislature to accomplish this needed improvement in the law. A Senate version awaits action by the full Senate, but a companion bill in the House is still locked in a subcommittee," said Perry.

Lions Told Of Need For Local Foster Home Care

Foster homes for abused or neglected children in the Cam-eron area are a priority item with the local Public Welfare office. Roy Boutwell told Cam-eron Noon Lions at their meeting Monday.

Boutwell, State Welfare super-visor for a 17 county area, was introduced by Dr. John Martin, program chairman.

Boutwell said he is making a plea at Lions Clubs in his area, asking support for the Fos-ter Home program.

"At present we have no foster homes in this area," Bout-well said. He noted several cases where children could have been saved from serious injury in-flicted by parents or guardians if there had been foster homes to place them in temporarily.

Boutwell said the Welfare Of-fice hoped to establish a list of foster homes where children can be placed on a short term, emer-gency basis. He explained that interim care was needed while room was made for children in state homes.

He told of one case where children were left in a locked car while their mother worked. "This was a case where we needed a foster home where the children could be cared for lo-cally until they could be placed in a permanent home."

He said anyone interested in providing Foster Home Care should contact the State Welfare Office in Cameron.

Walter Obermiller of Cam-eron was named to the finance committee of the Region III Dis-abled American Veterans.

Easter

It is now three days after that terrible Dark Friday when God said unto them, "Thus it is written, and thus it behooved Christ to suffer, and to rise from the dead the third day; and that repentance and remission of sins should be preached among all nations." The weighty stones are being rolled away from the grave doors and the Spirit is becoming triumphant over death. The Old Rugged Cross and Christ's tomb are both being snatched, forever, from their association with death. Now, just then, Heavenly love turned the gloomiest Dark Friday in the annals of human history into a very Good Friday. All that Christmas ever meant to the world is now wholly sanctified in Easter. Christ's promise that, He would build the Temple again in three days, has been fulfilled. Easter is the springtime of the soul and Crucifixion has more radiant beauty and deep meaning when we see it through the fragrant glory of the snow white lily. Easter symbolizes the Crucifixion, Burial and Resurrection of our True Leader. The event is packed with all the drama of human emotion we can withstand. Hallelujah, it is Easter. Amen
